What you will experience as a Live Production Team member:

- A rewarding and innovative work environment.
- An integrated structure which allows employees to be involved in every aspect of the turkey industry and creates a culture in which everyone works together to achieve a unified goal.
- One of the largest turkey producers in the world they offer a wealth of knowledge, experience, and opportunity few companies can match.
- Being an essential member of a team dedicated to quality assurance, innovation, and teamwork.

— Nancy, University of Minnesota Alumni, former Jennie-O Turkey Store intern, and current Growout Production Supervisor

Live Production Internship Opportunity
Summer 2013

The summer internship will last approximately three months. You will work 40+ hours per week with a variable work schedule. You will be introduced to a progressive and dynamic turkey breeder or grow out operation which will provide you live production experience that will be beneficial in the future.

You will apply your managerial, leadership, and interpersonal skills to the daily management of a flock and be given the chance to be involved in the design, execution, and analysis of your own project, depending on your interests and our needs. This opportunity gives you the exposure to research trials and design.

Qualified candidates will have completed their junior year with a Science, Business, or Agricultural related major with a minimum 2.7 GPA; and demonstrated analytical, problem-solving, leadership, and interpersonal skills.

Internship locations in Minnesota or Wisconsin:

- Willmar, MN area
- Faribault, MN area

Jennie-O Turkey Store is an EEO/AAP Employer
In a down economy, Jennie-O Turkey Store continues to grow earnings...

With more than $2 billion annual sales in 2012, our company accounted for 20 percent of fiscal 2012 of Hormel Foods. "We enjoyed another strong performance by our Jennie-O Turkey Store and International teams. Jennie-O Turkey Store had another solid quarter, with segment profit up 5 percent. The continued sales growth of value-added products and an improved product mix offset higher feed costs..." commented Jeffrey M. Ettinger, chairman of the board, president, and chief executive officer of Hormel Foods.

As a world-class leader in new product innovation, we have a need for talented, dedicated Team members. We realize our primary strength is in the Team members we employ.

We are hoping you can continue to help us succeed by providing students information regarding our current internship opening. We have attached a flyer for your convenience to post in your department if you would find this helpful.
