

CoBank's 2012 summer Internship Program is just being launched. Interested students can go to our CoBank website, click careers, click Apply Now, in the Job Category menu box scroll down to Internships and fill out the application on line and send in a resume. We have multiple positions for the Internships, 4 will be in Denver, the other positions are in our banking centers around the country, however, the Internship is a paid position that will help offset living costs. The ideal candidate is a sophomore or junior majoring in Agricultural Economics, Agricultural Finance, or a Business major with emphasis in accounting and finance. A basic knowledge of cooperative principles and the desire to expand in this area would be beneficial.
