Graduate Seminar – Sarah Wagner, Coordinator

Speaker: Benjamin Howard, NDSU ANSC Graduate Student

Topic: Morinda Citrofolia as a Possible Stress Reducer in Growing Cattle and Color Stabilizer in Ground Beef Patties

Ben Howard is originally from Eldon, MO. He graduated from Missouri State University in May 2014 with a degree in animal science. He is working on an M.S. degree in meat science under the direction of Dr. Kasey Maddock Carlin, focusing on the effects of beta-adrenergic agonists in beef cattle as they relate to meat quality.

Speaker: Rosemarie Somers, NDSU ANSC Graduate Student

Topic: Effect of Maternal Seaweed Extract Supplementation on Suckling Piglet Growth, Humoral Immunity, Selected Microflora, and Immune Response after an Ex Vivo Lipopolysaccharide Challenge

Rosemarie Somers hails from the small community of Cudjoe’s Hill, St. Catherine, Jamaica. She received a B.S. degree in agriculture with a concentration in animal science from Prairie View A&M University in Prairie View, Texas. She also garnered some experience in agricultural education in the primary and secondary education system in Jamaica. She is working on an M.S. degree in meat science under the mentorship of Dr. David Newman.
