

Animal Sciences News

Week of December 11, 2011

Animal Sciences Graduate Seminar – Kendall Swanson

There is no seminar the rest of the semester.

Clarification

Last week's Animal Sciences News indicated that Sajin Bae has resigned her position at NDSU. To clarify, Sajin has completed her M.S. program with Dr. Park and will be going to New York to begin her Ph.D. program at Cornell.

Jessica Stylski Leaving NDSU

Jessica Stylski, M.S. student studying with Dr. Carrie Hammer, has resigned her position effective December 15. She has accepted a job offer from Anoka Equine Veterinary Services in Elk River, Minnesota, to be a breeding manager. Jessica will be managing the breeding portion of the clinic as well as the neonatal foal intensive care unit.

Jessica and her fiancé Russell Fisher will be residing in the Twin Cities area.

NDSU Holiday Hours

7:30 am to 4 pm
December 19 through January 6

University Closed

Monday, December 27, and Monday, January 2

Animal Sciences Christmas Party Recap

The Animal Sciences Christmas Party was held this past Saturday at the Alumni Center. Guests enjoyed time to visit with colleagues, retirees, and guests and dined on a wonderful pork loin meal prepared by Carnivore Catering. Entertainment was provided by Game Show Mania. A good time was had by one and all!

