Animal Sciences Seminar
Speaker: Roza Yunusova, Research Specialist
NDSU Animal Sciences
Topic: Epigenetics: Effect of Maternal Nutrition on Offspring Growth and Health
Date: Friday, January 28, 2011
Time: 3:00 - 4:00 p.m.
Location: Hultz Hall Room104

Roza Yunusova is originally from Kyrgyzstan (in what was the former Soviet Union). Roza graduated from Minnesota State University-Moorhead in May 2009 with a B.S in Biology and a minor in Chemistry. Roza first came to NDSU in August 2004 as a one-year exchange student. She returned to NDSU in August 2009 to work toward her M.S. degree. Her research interests are in nutritional physiology and physiology of reproduction. She is currently working under the direction of Drs. Dale Redmer and Joel Caton.

Judging Team Members Finish in Top Ten at National Western Stock Show – Coach Ben Williams

Fresh from the National Western livestock judging contest, the NDSU Junior Livestock Judging team is excited for what the spring and fall judging season have to offer. To this point, they have competed at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln mock contest and the National Western Livestock and Carload judging contest. The team has learned a lot and experienced some achievement.

Three team members were recognized at the National Western Carload contest. Beth Hendrickx was 5th, James Kapp was 8th, and Samantha Froelich was 10th high individual overall. They will compete at the Sioux Falls Empire Show, Nebraska Cattleman’s Classic and the Meat Animal Evaluation Contest this spring. Team members include: Coach Ben Williams, Samantha Froelich, Reed Kampmeier, Beth Hendrickx, and James Kapp.
Larson Crowned 85th Little I Queen – The Outrider, NDSU Saddle and Sirloin Club

Every year the Saddle and Sirloin Club selects three ladies to serve as the faces of the organization during the Little International. This year, four ladies competed for Little I royalty. Quynn Larson from Brandon, SD, was crowned queen. Serving as her princesses will be Katie Carlson, Harris, MN, and Sarah Schaible, Hosmer, SD.

Per tradition, each of the ladies completed an interview. Then at the regular Wednesday meeting they each presented a speech to all S & S Club members. Their performances were evaluated and the club voted these three ladies as their Little I royalty.

Larson is a senior studying Animal Science, Carlson is studying Agricultural Economics, and Schaible is studying Veterinary Technology.

The royalty will represent the club at any media events, host a coloring contest at West Acres Mall, work with contestants preparing for Little I, and greet the crowd during Little I shows.

Queen Quynn Larson, Brandon, SD (C);
Princesses Katie Carlson, Harris, MN (L), Sarah Schaible, Hosmer, SD (R)
Dairy Judging Team Results – Excerpted from S/S Club Outrider and Coach Todd Molden

This year, the Bison Dairy Judging Team consists of Jake Aanden, Fertile, MN; Sean Kveno, Fertile, MN; Luke Fellbaum, Swanville, MN; Brandon Hokana, Ellendale, ND; Danelle Hoff, Richardton, ND; and Jasper Oyster, Hewitt, MN. Team coach is Todd Molden.

Jake, Sean, and Luke competed at the Accelerated Genetics Judging Contest at Viroqua, WI, in September. The team placed very well with Jake taking first in Guernseys and the team placed in the top ten of most breeds. Shortly after, the team attended the World Dairy Expo in Madison, WI. Jake took 9th place in Holsteins. In Shorthorns, Jake took 3rd place and Brandon took 5th place. Jake was 10th overall in reasons. The team took 6th place in Jerseys.

In November, the team attended the North American International Livestock Expo in Louisville, KY. In that competition, Luke placed 1st in Ayrshires and Danelle placed 2nd in Holsteins. Jasper did well in Jerseys and talked a 47 in Jersey reasons.

In January, Jake, Sean, Danelle, and Luke competed in the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show in Fort Worth, TX. Jake finished 1st in Jerseys, 8th in Brown Swiss, and 7th in reasons. Danelle was 7th in Holsteins. Of the 12 teams competing, NDSU finished 4th overall, 4th in reasons, 2nd in Jerseys, 3rd in Holsteins, and 4th in Brown Swiss. Luke led the team in scoring; and all of the team members were in the top 25.

---

Corrie Beth Redmer married Shane Haack on January 7, 2011, at the Northwestern College Chapel, St. Paul, MN.

Corrie is a pediatric oncology nurse at Fairview Children’s Hospital, UM campus; Shane is an electrical engineer and works in a large company in Chanhassen.

Congratulations Corrie and Shane!