Showmanship Team Wins at Competition

A team of students, all members of Saddle and Sirloin Club and comprised of (photo l to r) Jake Aanden, David Larson, Quinn Steffen, and Daven Dockter, received the Champion Showmanship Team Award at the Best of the Midwest competition which was held November 8 and 9 in Cedar Rapids, IA. The Best of the Midwest is a livestock judging competition, similar to Little I, which includes universities from the Upper Midwest. Also competing at this year’s contest were Wisconsin Platteville, Wisconsin River Falls, and Kirkwood Community College (event host). David won the beef division and was the overall showman, Jake was overall dairy showman, Quinn was overall reserve swine showman, and David was 5th in the lamb class.

Wedding Bells

Jim Magolski and Emily Jagla were married July 27 at New London, WI

Emily is completing her B.S. degree in nursing at the University of Wisconsin – Oshkosh. Jim received his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in Animal Science from NDSU. He is currently employed as the farm system manager for Coleman Natural Pork.
Anderson Wins Cookoff
Skip Anderson, NDSU Sheep Unit Herdsman, was the People’s Choice winner and recipient of the “Cut Above the Rest” trophy at the North Dakota Lamb and Wool Producer’s Association convention held last week in Bismarck. Skip won for his boneless leg of lamb.

Extension Event – NDSU Feedlot School
• January 21-22, 2014
• Carrington Research Extension Center, Carrington, ND
• Registration deadline – January 14, 2014 (registration limited to 25 people)
• Cost – $130/person or $175 for 2 people from the same operation
• For more information, contact Joel Lemer at 701-652-2581 or joel.lemer@ndsu
• Department personnel involved:
  ▪ Vern Anderson
    ➢ Animal Requirements
    ➢ Feeds, Nutrient Analysis and Beef Feedlot Research
    ➢ CREC Feedlot Research Facilities Overview
    ➢ Low-stress Working Facilities
  ▪ Marc Bauer
    ➢ Feed Additives and Growth Promoter Technologies
  ▪ Gerald Stokka
    ➢ Livestock Stewardship
    ➢ Disease Diagnosis, Treatments, and Health Programs
  ▪ Carl Dahlen
    ➢ Feeding Facilities Review
  ▪ Rob Maddock
    ➢ Carcass Quality and Marketing on the Grid

You are cordially invited to the dedication of the H.R. Lund Atrium in honor of
H. Roald Lund

Thursday, December 19
3:00 p.m. in Loftsgard Hall

Friday Afternoon Club – Kendall Swanson
The Friday Afternoon Club will not meet again until Spring Semester starts.