Jennifer Young New Technician
Jennifer Young is the new technician working with David Newman. She has her office in Hultz 123, her phone number is 1-9479, and her email is Jennifer.m.young@ndsu.edu. Following is a short biography.

Jennifer Young grew up in North Carolina in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains. She got her B.S. in animal science and B.A. in religious studies at North Carolina State University in 2007. She then moved to Ames, IA, where she got her Ph.D. in genetics at Iowa State University. She defended her dissertation (The effect of selection for residual feed intake in Yorkshire pigs on feeding behavior and sow reproductive performance and lactation efficiency) in December 2011. Following that, she was a post-doc at Iowa State University where she continued her work managing the residual feed intake project and assisting graduate students.

Jennifer has moved to Fargo with her boyfriend Brian Penning and their daughter Theresa, and she looks forward to being a part of the Animal Science Department at NDSU.

We welcome Jennifer to the department.
