Extension Event – “Boots on the Farm” Dairy Tour

The four-state I-29 Dairy Consortium, of which J.W. Schroeder is a member, is planning a calf and heifer tour on Thursday, December 11. The tour is part of the consortium’s 2015 theme “Raising Your Best Calf Ever.” Note: Attendees can meet in Brookings, SD, or Marshall, MN. If anyone is interested in being part of the tour and would like to ride with J.W. Schroeder, they should call him at 701-231-7663 or email jw.schroeder@ndsu.edu no later than December 8.

Schedule

- 6:30 a.m. – Load vans and depart South Dakota State University motor pool parking lot.
- 6:45 a.m. – Travel to Marshall, MN, to join participants meeting at the University of Minnesota regional Extension center.
- 9:30 a.m. – Visit the Carlson Dairy, Pennock, MN. The dairy uses automatic Urban calf feeders to raise replacement heifers and milk 1,500 cows with a herd average of 32,000 gallons of milk.
- 11:45 a.m. – Lunch at the Hilltop Restaurant, Paynesville, MN.
- 12:30 p.m. – Virtual tour of Rohe Dairy Calf Feeders at the restaurant. Rohe Dairy uses a forced-air system in an old milking barn with Lely automatic calf feeders.
- 1:30 to 2:45 p.m. – Visit the Mill Creek Dairy, Kimball, MN. The dairy milks about 600 cows and raises its own heifers using Lely automatic calf feeders.
- 3:00 to 4:15 p.m. – Visit the Landwehr Dairy, Watkins, MN. The dairy milks about 900 cows and has an all-in, all-out remodeled facility to raise replacement heifers using pens with Lely automatic calf feeders.
- 4:15 p.m. – Return home, dropping tour participants off in Marshall and Brookings.

The tour registration fee is $75 with van transportation or $15 if you drive.
