The Green & Gold Gala is a gathering of friends, sponsors, faculty, staff, alumni, and students of the Animal Sciences Department. Join us Saturday, September 19, at the Fargo Air Museum to watch the Bison football team take on UND on the big screen. There are also a social hour and banquet and live and silent auctions. For complete information and to register, go to http://www.ag.ndsu.edu/ansc/green-gold-gala.

Anyone interested in purchasing raffle tickets for a chance to win one of the great Green & Gold Gala raffle prizes can still do so by seeing Holly in Hultz 102. You need not be present to win!
Meet Our New Graduate Students

“My name is Hanaa Mansour. I was born and raised in Cairo, Egypt. I received my B.S and M.S degrees from Ain Shams University in Cairo. I was working as an assistant lecturer in the Department of Animal Production at Ain Shams University. I am pursuing a Ph.D. in the area of reproductive physiology under the supervision of Dr. Kim Vonnahme. My office is in Hultz Hall, room 125; my phone number is 701-231-7640; and my email is hanaa.mansour@ndsu.edu.

Outside of school, I am interested in cooking, camping, fishing, and gardening. My husband, Ali, is a Ph.D. student in animal biology at the University of California-Davis. We have one daughter, Salma, who is starting the first grade this year.”

Add Deadline Policy – NDSU Registration and Records

“All undergraduate and graduate students are expected to have added their fall courses via Campus Connection one week from the start of the semester, September 2nd. After one week, departments/instructors must provide student(s) with a course permit to add course(s). Note, all full-semester course registration is officially closed as of Monday, September 21st.

Appeal Process

After the add period is over, a student may have a course added to their schedule after the fourth week of the semester by following these steps:

- An instructor must write a memo approving the late registration and include the reason for allowing the late add and a plan for how the instructor will help the student to catch up with the rest of the class.
- A course permit, signed by the student and the department, must be attached to the memo.
- The paperwork should be brought (by the instructor or department) to the Graduate School in Putnam 106 (graduate students) or the Office of Registration and Records in Ceres 110 (undergraduate and professional students).
- The request will be reviewed and processed if approved. The instructor and student will receive notification of the decision.

Rationale

Course additions after the 4th week impact:

- Student financial aid
- Enrollment census reports
- Grade rosters not up-to-date

The Add Deadline Policy was approved by Faculty Senate on May 11, 2015.
