Berg Gives AMSA Webinar

In the webinar, he presented tips for engaging consumers (aka foodies) in conversation about modern meat production, processing, consumption, and nutritional value. He drew upon data collected from over 6,500 attendees of the NDSU BBQ Boot Camp.

Berg Addresses WHO Statement
Eric Berg was interviewed by Chris Berg on a KVLY Valley News Live Point of View segment titled, “Bacon and Cancer: What You Should Know” on October 27. This is in response to the recent World Health Organization statement that processed meats, including bacon and sausage, are linked to cancer. To see the interview, go to
