

Applications Now Being Accepted for:
Messersmith Undergraduate Teaching Fellowship

If you have an interest in teaching/learning and helping students, this opportunity is for you.

* Qualifications:

- Junior or Senior Standing, Fall 2019 - Completed PLSC 110, 215 and/or 323
- Crop and Weed Science or Agriculture Education major
- Interest in helping others learn and succeed

* Expected experience: Assist in teaching one of the courses above in fall and/or spring semester, 2019-2020. The actual experience may vary depending on the professor and/or student. It is possible that one student will be selected for both semesters, or a different student for each semester.

* Stipend: Up to $1200 for the academic year, fall and spring semesters. The stipend will be earned via time-slip, about $12.50/hour; however, the greater value of the Fellowship is the experience.

* Application Process: (Deadline: April 23, 2019)

To apply, compose an application letter that provides the following:

- Your reasons for interest in the Fellowship
- Your long-term goals and how this Fellowship would help you reach your goals
- Which of the three courses (110, 215, 323) are of most interest
- Total number of credits completed and Cumulative GPA
- Major and expected graduation date (Semester/Year)

* Deadline for application letter: Tuesday, April 23, 2019 by 1:00pm
Deliver to Karen Jevning - 166 Loftsgard

Questions?

Contact Karen (231-8163/karen.jevning@ndsu.edu)

or any one of the PLSC 110, PLSC 215 or PLSC 323 faculty

(Dr. Deckard, Brenda Deckard, Dr. Oliver, Dr. Gramig, or Dr. Howatt)