Re: Letter of Support for NDSU Extension Service, Family Community Wellness

To Whom it May Concern:

The Pembina County Public Health Department is providing this letter in support of NDSU Extension Services, Family Community Wellness and their work on behalf of their partnership and programming to enhance the lives and wellbeing of community residents. The ongoing, collaborative work that they provide to Pembina County is immeasurable and absolutely essential to this rural population.

NDSU Extension remains a trusted and valued resource for effective outreach, training, and evaluation services. They help our health unit to provide programming that we otherwise would not be able to offer the community. Some examples of the resources put forth by the Pembina County Extension office that compliment our public health mission include: the Stepping On Fall Prevention Program, Powerful Tools for Caregivers, worksite wellness, occupational health, and the Diabetes Prevention Program. NDSU Extension is a key partner in the Pembina County Parenting Education Committee, Pembina County Behavioral Health Committee, Community Health Needs Assessments, and the Pembina County Health Coalition. We utilize their ideas and resources in our school health curriculums, as well as promoting their youth opportunities such as 4H, Progressive Ag, and Kaleidoscope Classes.

The NDSU Extension Service, Family Community Wellness is a vital piece to a healthy Pembina County. If not for their programming, we would have a large gap in public education in our area.

The Pembina County Public Health Department supports continuing partnerships with NDSU Extension Services and urge your support for their continued programming. We look forward to continuing our collaborations with NDSU Extension, Family Community Wellness in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Pembina County Public Health Department
