

Directions to the NDSU Absaraka Horticulture Research Farm (UPDATED 9/11/13)

Due to road closures, please use the same directions from the west as from the east. The update is provided below. As you get closer to the farm you will find yourself on a road in a corn field. You may second-guess the directions, however this correct and you need to continue.

From the east

Take Interstate 94 west and turn north at Wheatland exit 322. Follow the pavement to the north. The road curves to the west shortly after passing through Wheatland. Turn north (right) on Cass County Road 5 (paved road, sign posted). At the Absaraka corner, the road changes to gravel at a slight curve. Go north about three-fourths of a mile (sign posted). Turn east (right) on a field road and proceed one-half mile to the Horticulture Research Farm, which is bordered by trees.

From the west (UPDATED)

Take Interstate 94 to the Wheatland exit (322). Follow the pavement to the north. The road curves to the west shortly after passing through Wheatland. Turn north (right) on Cass County Road 5 (paved road, sign posted). At the Absaraka corner, the road changes to gravel at a slight curve. Go north about three-fourths of a mile (sign posted). Turn east (right) on a field road and proceed one-half mile to the Horticulture Research Farm, which is bordered by trees.

From the north or south

Take Interstate 29 to the Argusville exit (79). Go west approximately 20 miles on Cass County Road 4 (paved). Turn south on Cass County Road 5 (gravel, sign posted) for approximately four miles. Turn east (left) prior to the Absaraka corner (sign posted) and proceed one-half mile to the Horticulture Research Farm, which is bordered by trees.
