THE BEST OF THE BEST IN WHEAT RESEARCH AND MARKETING

Thursday - February 11, 2016
Ramada Grand Dakota Lodge, Dickinson

NDSU Extension Service Workshop - Sponsored by the ND Grain Growers Association and the ND Wheat Commission

AGENDA

9:00 a.m.  Welcome: Kurt Froelich

9:05 a.m.  Insects impacting wheat and barley: an update – Janet Knodel, NDSU Extension Service, Fargo

9:30 a.m.  Foliar disease management of wheat and barley: lessons learned from 2015 – Andrew Friskop NDSU Extension Service, Fargo

10:00 a.m. Marketing wheat, durum and barley: when and why – Frayne Olson, NDSU Extension Service, Fargo.

10:30 a.m. Break

11:00 a.m. Monitors, sensors and UAS: what have we learned? – John Nowatzki, NDSU Extension Service, Fargo

11:30 a.m. What management practices can help improve durum productivity: research results from 2015 – Shana Forster, NDSU Extension Service, Minot

12:00 p.m. Lunch

1:10 p.m.  Hands-on demonstrations
- Identifying troublesome weeds: Ryan Buetow and Greg Endres
- Temperature inversions impact chemical applications – John Nowatzki
- Meet the foxtails and learn how to control them – Shana Forster
- Playing the variety selection/protein premium game – Joel Ransom

2:15 p.m.  How heavy should I seed spring wheat: A review of recent seeding rate data – Joel Ransom, NDSU Extension Service, Fargo

2:40 p.m.  Why using the North Dakota Wheat Nitrogen Calculator may improve your bottom line – Dave Franzen NDSU Extension Service

3:05 p.m.  – Variety performance in 2015, what’s new and what worked – Greg Endres, NDSU Extension service, Carrington.

3:30 p.m.  Adjourn